As Mrs. Willis and her daughter were iving to the village last Wednesday e king-bolt came out as they were crossg the river bridge, spilling them out er the dash-board something after the vle of leap-frog. Mrs. Willis was mewhat bruised, though not seriously hey were driving a young horse, which rtunately, was a gentle one, and apeared not at all excited or alarmed it, thus released of the main part o load, took the remainder and trotted surely and deliberately up the road til overtaken by one of the ladies, he s arrested and brought triumphantly ck to the scene of action, when the lies, by their united strength, succeedin uniting the vehicle, and drove C. The following was received ten hours late for our last paper, but we give this week, all the same.

The musical convention conducted by essrs. Whitney and Rix at Albany, rsday and Friday, Aug. 1 and can truthfully say was very enjoye and instructive. Of the concert en Friday night we cannot speak too thly, feeling sure that all who were delightfully entertained will bear the me testimony. We have never heard fine a concert in these parts. Es cial mention is due each artist. Mrs nk is one of the finest sopranos in the untry, the beautiful quality of her ice, her control of it, and the perfect pression with which she sings rivet e attention and charm the audience to squisite. Mr. Jas. Whitney who has or so long a time been acknowledged he best tenor in America and who has one so much toward the elevation of nusic in his teaching, was heartily reeived, and although he has sung and orked so arduously lately, he seemed sing better than ever. Mr. Rix. who well known as the "George Washing. on" of "Father Kemps old Folks" and ho has considerable reputation as eacher possesses a rich mellow bass pice, and with Mrs. Rink is seldom qualed. Mr. Leland Whitney, altho' ot eighteen years of age, ranks well as pianist and bids fair to be second to one in the list of first class instrumenlists. We understand he will teach ano music during the coming term of e seminary at North Craftsbury, where has already gained some note as a acher and a director of brass bands. e must not fail to say that the chorus ith only four rehearsals sung well, the los by Miss McClary and Miss Batchder were well rendered, considering e short time for rehearsal. The conention in every respect was a success. here will be one held at South Troy, ednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Aug.

Five cars got loose from a freight train near South Barton last Saturday night and took a double-quick retreat back as far as the Landing, where the one brakeman who engineered the movement succeeded in screwing down brake (there was only one brake) sufficiently o bring the train to a halt. The Republicans of Barton met in the school house last Thursday evening, according to notice, and organized a Grant Club, with Edward Barnard as President and I. P. Gage Secretary. The meeting was an enthusiastic one. About thirty persons joined the club. The Frenchman obeyed orders, jumped down and ran for dear life, and has not been seen in the 1, 15, and 16, which no doubt will be village since. On further search they found 4 gallons of liquor.

The busy season of having being over, many of the farmers find their barns so will filled that they will be under the necessity of thrashing their grain as soon as it is taken from the field.

The Montpelierites are again "tenting on the old camp ground" on the shores selves, rest, recreation, fresh air and fresh fish; that is, if they are lucky enough to catch them.

Notwithstanding the extreme heat of the season, we are, as a community; in the enjoyment of good health. There has been but one death for several weeks. A severe cough is prevalent which some call the whooping cough. It attacks indiscriminately those who have, as well as those who have not, had that disease. The hav crop is harvested and is an abundant one though perhaps not as from 6,000 to 6,200 lbs. of milk per day. kinds of grain very much flattened. than in a season when the growth was about fifty-five pounds.

Many fields of grain in the vicinity less rapid. Barns, which three weeks ago were thought to be well filled, now afford space for quite a crop of grain. Farmers must make a liberal allowance for their stock, or they will be under the necessity of sending "to Egypt for corn."

The earth was not set on fire by comet on Monday, according to prediction but on Tuesday, there were serious signs of a deluge. It commenced raining very briskly between six and seven A. M., and continued with little cessation until noon, when it came down in torrents, accompanied by the most terrific thunder and lightning of the season. A tree in close proximity to the dwelling house of L. D. Dow, was struck by lightning. A bridge across the Lamoille, near "The Bend" was carried away; also several smaller ones in different directions. Petition will be presented to the next ermont Legislature praying for the pasage of an act separating the town of Greensboro from the county of Orleans and annexing it to Caledonia

The violent shower at this place Tuesday afternoon, was a small deluge at Sheffield, and so along down to Lyndon. The west branch of the Passumpsic at the Hollow, rose four feet in thirty minutes. In fact that stream has not been known to have been so high since the town was inhabited-it exceeded the meetings Sabbath evenings, 71 : number | flood of '69. Of course great damage was done in washing highways, meadows, &c. Laban Grav's meadow has a channel cut directly through it, seriously damaging it. The hay crop was gathered from the meadows, but where there was grain on low lands, it was seriously injured .- Caledonian.

Mr. Hosea Garfield is putting up new house which is to be completed by 1st of Oct. It will cost $1500. The Rev. Thos. H. Keniston, son Jesse G. Keniston, died at his father's residence on Saturday night, Aug. 10th. He was a minister of the Wesleyan church and has been actively engaged in the christian ministry for about twelve years. His last field was Syracuse, N. Y., which sufferer, but his rest is glorious.

The freshet of last Tuesday has don considerable damage in Sheffield. Sev eral bridges have been swept away and the roads and meadows are badly washed. During the storm and when the congregation was assembling for the funeral services of the late Rev. T. H. Keniston, a false report was made "that the Methodist E. Church was in danger of being swept away." All who know the building and its position are conscious that a freshet like that of Tuesday would not affect it a particle. It stands as it ever has stood, founded upon a rock. SUTTON.

On Sunday, August 4th, Rev. F. L. Wiley baptized four persons. This makes thirty-three persons who have joined the Free Baptist church in this place in three weeks.

The tin box and contents was then placed in the excavation and the whole sealed up. This will be the finest church in the place.
